Join your colleagues and an expert chef to guide you in making the perfect meal from a part of the world voted by you beforehand. The chef is a professional food educator and TV presenter with years of experience across many cuisines. You'll be guided on a culinary journey and produce a two-course meal from start to finish. Then, indulge in your meal at the end as you chat to your colleagues and quiz the chef for stories from the kitchen. You'll be provided with a shopping list in advance to purchase supplies for the evening.

Please note minimum numbers apply for this event to take place.*

Gather with your colleagues!

Planning on getting together with friends and watching the ASM? We've created a Watch Party Pack to add a little zest to your meeting.

We're disappointed we can't all gather together in Perth so we've included some Perth inspired activities to feed your wanderlust.

Need something to distract the kids while you're watching a session? We've created a special Kids Pack to keep them busy – think colouring in and some Quokka related fun (and hey, there's no reason adults can't get involved with these too!).

Our Watch Party Pack is available here to download.

ASM Leaderboard

The leaderboard is back for 2022! This is your chance to get involved and win some great prizes, including bragging rights for beating your fellow colleagues. The more you engage in online activities, the more points you receive, it's that simple. This year we have a range of ways to grow your score and get ahead of the game:

- Joining in from home but your furry friend won't leave you alone? Get them involved! Yes we want to see your happy snaps of your pets – cats, dogs, birds, fish – whoever they may be. Hashtag #ASM22pets along with your photo on Twitter or Instagram to go in the running to win points.
- Download the ASM App to your mobile and tune in from anywhere.
- Connect and chat with fellow delegates in the meeting hub online and debrief on what's set to be a stellar program.
- Don't be shy, ask a question in one of our sessions and watch that tally grow.
- Visit the healthcare industry (HCI) virtual exhibition and chat with representatives online with just one click of a mouse.

- Join one of our virtual events including yoga, a cooking class and even a cheese and wine tasting – delicious and will score you some points!
- Get out in nature and take a break from all the exciting content being thrown your way. We're all about practicing activities that support our mental health and wellbeing. Take your break outside, whether it's a walk, run, cycle or something in between. If you're stuck at home, let us know what you're doing to ground yourself inside. Include a pic and hashtag #ASM22wellbeing on Twitter or Instagram to go in the running to win points.

You can keep track of how you're going throughout the meeting in our online portal so you don't fall behind. Good luck!
